

Sayyid Al-Hakeem calls to have broader relations with region, world through Iraqi components to achieve Iraqi interest

Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem, head of Al-Hikma National Movement, reiterated his position to support Iraqi components and deals with them as components rather than minorities on Saturday, 18/2/2023. While meeting several representatives of the Iraqi components headed by the head of the Iraqi Alliance of Faili Kurds, Sheikh Assad Al-Faili, to manage diversity and start through the Iraqi Components for broader relations with the countries of the region and the world to achieve Iraqi interest.

His Eminence affirmed that components are a source of enrichment, strength, culture, knowledge, and a qualitative addition to Iraqi society, illustrating that having components was a reason for the Holy Pope's visit and the positive reflection it had on the Iraqi reality.

His Eminence called the Iraqi components to defend everyone's rights, illustrating the successive governments' wish to resolve Sinjar's problem, but it is still an area of regional and international conflicts where the people of Sinjar are being used for personal and factional gains.

His Eminence called to redress Christian Bureau and other religions with allocations that fit their status and impacts, as well as the importance of building worshiping houses for all religions for the role it plays in bringing back the components to their status again. H.E. reiterated his call for an inclusive managerial revolution that eradicates red tape, prevents corruption, and provides services, indicating that automation and electronic systems and important to achieve this purpose.
