On the Children’s Day, Sayyid Al-Hakeem emphasizes sound generation upbringing necessity

Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem, head of Al-Hikma National Movement, stressed the importance of raising the new generation with a sound upbringing. This came in a statement on the occasion of the Children’s Day, highlighting the significance of aligning the upbringing of the new generation with our values and shielding them from harmful foreign ideas to our society, especially those propagated through social media. H.E. pointed out the necessity of instilling the values of goodness, peace, love, and giving in the personalities of our youth, making them active individuals and contributors to the development of society and the building of the nation.

His Eminence renewed his call for ensuring their rights to health, education, and protection from the threats of terrorism and organized crime, ensuring a dignified life for them.
