Sayyid Al-Hakeem urges international community position to rescue Palestinian people

Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem, Head of Al-Hikma National Movement, urged the international community to take a serious stance to rescue the Palestinian people and put an end to their plight.

In a statement on the International Day of Solidarity with the Palestinian People, affirming that it is time when the resilient population, particularly in Gaza, endured 45 days of explicit aggression – an utter and complete war crime, systematic genocide, and deliberate unjust siege by Israeli forces. This included the bombing of hospitals, residential areas, and health facilities, resulting in a rising toll of casualties, predominantly among women, children, and the elderly. His Eminence added “This grave transgression against all boundaries, international laws, and humanitarian principles demands a determined response from the global community to rescue the Palestinian people and put an end to their plight. It also necessitates a sincere examination of positions marked by double standards regarding human rights, freedom of expression, women's rights, children's rights, and the rights of the elderly, issues that the international community advocates for.

H.E. expressed hope for the ongoing ceasefire and a comprehensive halt to the conflict, coupled with international, Arab, and Islamic efforts to assist those in distress in Gaza and contribute to the Strip’s reconstruction.
