Sayyid Al-Hakeem emphasizes unified perspective on liberated areas, liberators regions who sacrificed resources and capabilities to achieve great victory

At the guest place of Sheikh Faisal Hussein Al-Fartoosi, Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem met with a distinguished gathering of sheiks and dignitaries from Al-Fartoos tribe and the clans of Al-Muthanna, commending the sacrifices of Al-Muthanna's residents and its tribes.

H.E. outlined the suffering these provinces endured from neglect and marginalization in the past, noting that their resources and capabilities were harnessed to support the occupied areas by ISIS. H.E. stressed the importance of a unified perspective on liberated areas and regions of liberators who sacrificed resources and capabilities to achieve a great victory.

H.E. underscored the importance of prioritizing the most impoverished provinces in wealth distribution to achieve justice, praising the investment opportunities in Muthanna Governorate along with its industrial and agricultural advancements. H.E. emphasized the accumulated performance and the preservation of political stability in local governments.
