Sayyid Al-Hakeem: Iraq, through the eyes of others, appears different from the perspective of Iraqis immersed in daily details

Among Al Abes tribe, known as the tribe of martyrs, and in the guest place of Sheikh Saud Akaz Al Bu Majid, Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem, Head of Al-Hikma National Movement, expressed his deep appreciation for the positions defending religion and sanctities of the honorable Al-Abs tribe. His Eminence affirmed that nations gain strength from their martyrs and sacrifices, highlighting that Iraq has endured significant security, political, and societal challenges, bearing the burden of belonging to the household of the Prophet "peace be upon them."

H.E. explained that Iraq suffered from the exploitation of terrorism to disrupt its political and social conditions, praising the sacrifices and patience of Iraqis and the blood of martyrs that changed the equation and led to the current stability. H.E. pointed out the media projects that attempted to demonize everything and magnify some issues as if they represented the overall situation, warning against their danger and compliance with them.

H.E. also emphasized that Iraq, as perceived by others, differs from the perspective of Iraqis immersed in daily details, affirming that our situation is not ideal but successful to a certain extent. H.E. called for spreading positivity and trusting in Allah, expressing his confidence in Iraq's success in overcoming the challenges of services, reconstruction, and development, just as Iraq succeeded in overcoming the security and social challenges, which surpassed achievement to miraculous levels.
