Sayyid Al-Hakeem phones Iranian President Masoud , Pezeshkian, affirms Baghdad-Tehran deep ties

In a phone call, Sayyid Al-Hakeem, head of the National State Powers' Alliance, congratulated the newly elected Iranian President, Dr. Masoud Pezeshkian, and the Islamic Republic of Iran on the successful presidential elections, that took place under challenging circumstances following the martyrdom of the former President, Mr. Raisi, and his colleagues (may Allah have mercy on their souls). H.E. noted that the high voter turnout was a testament to the Iranian people's commitment to democracy and their political system. Moreover, His Eminence wished President Pezeshkian an era of further brilliance, prosperity, and preservation of achievements for Tehran.

H.E. emphasized the deep relationship with the Islamic Republic and the importance of strengthening it by leveraging the religious, geographical, cultural, and historical commonalities between the two countries.