Sayyid Al-Hakeem calls to integrate religious institutions with Christian and other endowment offices

Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem, Head of the National State Powers Alliance, met with Dr. Rami Joseph Agajan, Head of the Christian, Yazidi, and Sabean Mandaean Endowment Office, and emphasized the importance of preserving and empowering Iraq’s diverse communities, particularly those affected by terrorism and sectarian or ethnic violence. His Eminence stressed that the presence of these communities in Iraq’s national landscape should be valued for their qualitative contributions rather than their numbers.

H.E. called for protecting and managing Iraq’s diversity and leveraging it to build bridges between Iraq and the world.

H.E. urged continuous communication and coordination with relevant entities to address Components' intellectual and social challenges. H.E. also highlighted the importance of integrating the Christian, Yazidi, and Sabean Mandaean Endowment Office with other religious institutions.

H.E. called for protecting the properties and endowments of Iraq’s diverse communities, advocating for dialogue, cultural exchange, and a focus on the shared human values inherent in all religions.
