Sayyid Al-Hakeem Meets with Yemeni Religious Scholar, Sayyid Mohammed Abdul-Azim Al-Houthi

Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem, Head of the National State Powers Alliance, met with Sayyid Mohammed Abdul-Azim Al-Houthi, a prominent religious scholar from Yemen. They discussed the latest developments in the region and explored ways to strengthen cooperation and solidarity to ensure stability and uphold the dignity of the region’s people.

His Eminence addressed the challenges facing the Islamic world, particularly intellectual and cultural ones, emphasizing the importance of unified stances to confront these challenges. H.E. stressed that religious and social institutions, as well as religious scholars, must play an active role in this effort.

H.E. reiterated the necessity of supporting the Palestinian people and stopping the massacres committed by the Israeli entity against them. H.E. called on the international community to uphold its responsibility by enforcing international laws and resolutions and pressuring the occupying entity to cease its war on Gaza.
