Sayyid Al-Hakeem Stresses Serving Dhi Qar’s People, Calls Iraqi Tribes to Contribute to Preserve Stability Actively

During His Eminence’s meeting with a delegation of sheikhs and dignitaries from the Bani Hujam tribe in Dhi Qar province, Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem, Head of the National State Powers’ Alliance, listened to their perspectives on the current situation in the city and the positive developments, including reconstruction and development projects across various sectors.

H.E. emphasized the importance of serving the people of Dhi Qar and urged the Iraqi tribes in the province to actively contribute to maintaining stability. H.E. also called for utilizing the province's economic assets, such as agriculture, industry, energy, and tourism. Moreover, H.E. stressed the need to create job opportunities and harness the potential of the youth and the scientific talents in the region, advocating for ongoing coordination between local and central governments.

Additionally, H.E. underscored the importance of role integration between the province's institutions, Iraqi state ministries, universities, and social actors.
