Sayyid Al-Hakeem: Advancing Educational Process is Essential to Improve Iraq’s Overall Reality

Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem, Head of the National State Powers Alliance, met with a delegation from the Educational Supervisors Association, listening to their perspectives on Iraq’s educational system and ways to enhance it. H.E. emphasized that elevating the educational process is fundamental to improving Iraq’s broader reality and highlighted the key role of educational supervision in this process, calling for support for educational supervisors.

Sayyid Al-Hakeem further explained that the educational process depends on several pillars, including students, teachers, schools, curricula, and the relationship between schools and families. H.E. underscored the need to develop curricula, provide training for educators, and improve infrastructure such as school buildings and other facilities.