Sayyid Al-Hakeem: Current Stability is Iraqis' Sacrifices’ , Determination to Build Their Homeland’s Result

Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem, Head of the National State Powers’ Alliance, met with a group of Indian businessmen interested in working in Iraq. His Eminence highlighted the current reality in Iraq and the stability it is witnessing on political, security, and social fronts, emphasizing that this stability is the result of the sacrifices and determination of the Iraqi people to build their nation.

H.E. also affirmed the diversity within Iraq, describing it as a source of enrichment for Iraqi society. H.E. stressed the importance of managing this diversity in a way that transforms these components into bridges connecting Iraq with the peoples of the region and the world.

H.E. further noted the need for foreign investments in Iraq, particularly in the fields of health, education, and technology.

Regarding the regional situation, H.E. renewed his condemnation of the genocide being perpetrated against the Palestinian and Lebanese peoples by the israeli occupation. H.E. reiterated his call for the international community to take immediate action to halt the war and begin the phases of relief and reconstruction.
