Sayyid Al-Hakeem Discusses Regional Political Developments with British Ambassador, Emphasizes Sustaining Iraq’s Stability

Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem, Head of the National State Powers Alliance, with the British Ambassador to Iraq, His Excellency Stephen Hitchen, and discussed the developments of the political reality in Iraq and the region and ways to enhance Iraqi-Britain ties.

His Eminence underscored the need to sustain the current stability in the country and promote social cohesion as a key aspect of this stability. Additionally, H.E. stressed the importance of resolving disputes and averting any crises that could threaten national unity.

H.E. reiterated support for implementing political agreements following the constitution and legal frameworks. H.E. emphasized prioritizing the public interest over any other considerations and ensuring the independence of political decision-making in Iraq.

H.E. further advocated for enabling the Syrian people to govern their country and draft their constitution. H.E. highlighted the importance of safeguarding Syria’s unity and demographic diversity.