Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem: Dhi Qar, Civilization Cradle, Hope Fountain for Future

From the ancient Ziggurat of Ur, where history and civilization stand tall, Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem, Head of the National State Powers' Alliance, emphasized that Dhi Qar Governorate is the cradle of civilization with its rich history, deeply-rooted community, and tribes that are an integral part of this great heritage. His Eminence noted that reflecting on this profound history offers both lessons and hope for the present and future.

Sayyid Al-Hakeem affirmed that future generations will take pride in this monumental cultural history, which aligns with the Islamic and human values upon which this heritage was built. H.E. added that these values ensure the creation of a strong, tolerant society capable of overcoming intolerance and hatred.

In conclusion, Sayyid Al-Hakeem reiterated his appreciation for every trace that recalls Iraq’s ancient history, expressing immense pride in Dhi Qar's cultural legacy, which continues to inspire and offer optimism for the future.
