Sayyid Al-Hakeem: Iraq Enters New Stability and Development Era

At the start of the second day of his tour in Dhi Qar Province, Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem, Head of the National State Powers Alliance, visited Al-Fajr District, where His Eminence was received by Sheikh Asaad Yassin Al-Murshidi along with several tribal sheikhs and dignitaries. The meeting was an opportunity to revisit shared memories of struggle in defense of Iraq and Islam, reaffirming the strong bonds uniting the Iraqi people in facing challenges together.

H.E. emphasized that Iraq has now transitioned into a new phase of security, political stability, and societal cohesion after enduring years of major challenges. H.E. pointed out that the nation overcame these difficulties by the grace of Allah, the support of the religious authority, and the steadfastness of Iraqi tribes, which have all contributed to ensuring safety across the country.

H.E. further noted that security forces now maintain the upper hand against terrorism, with precise monitoring of its networks nationwide. H.E. praised the significant social progress and strengthened coexistence within Iraqi society, highlighting that the State Administration Coalition has provided strong backing to the current government, driving forward reconstruction and development projects.

Addressing the hardships that Dhi Qar Province has endured, H.E. acknowledged the ongoing process of stabilization and recovery. H.E. reiterated that Iraq has faced unprecedented challenges and foreign agendas aimed at distorting its reality since 2003, yet the Iraqi people have persevered, unified their stance, and gained international admiration and recognition.

Concluding the speech, H.E. renewed the call for spreading optimism and positivity among the Iraqi people, emphasizing the importance of preserving and building upon the achievements realized across various sectors. H.E. stressed the need to continue working towards strengthening stability and advancing development throughout the country.

This meeting is part of H.E.’s tour in Dhi Qar Province, aimed at engaging directly with citizens, addressing their concerns, and reinforcing national unity in light of Iraq’s new phase of progress.
