Sayyid Al-Hakeem Visits Tribal Guesthouses in Najaf, Emphasizes National Unity in Facing Challenges

As the blessed month of Ramadan begins, Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem, Head of the National State Powers Alliance, visited several gatherings of Iraq’s honorable tribes and condolence assemblies in Al-Najaf Al-Ashraf. His Eminence’s visits included the diwan of Sheikh Talib Mahdi Al-Abd Al-Ameri, the diwan of the late Sheikh Hajj Aidan Al-Iraqi, the diwan of Sheikh Majid Sumaisem, the diwan of Al-Shamsa family and Hajj Ammar Shamsa, the diwan of Hajj Zuhair Sharbah, and the diwan of Hajj Badr Doush.

During his meetings with tribal sheiks and dignitaries, H.E. extended his blessings on the occasion of Ramadan, praying for security and peace across Iraq and for the nation’s protection from harm. H.E. also discussed political and social developments, commending the Iraqi people for their steadfast unity and strong ties among all components of society.

H.E. stressed the importance of strengthening national cohesion to confront current challenges, affirming that Iraq has successfully overcome many critical junctures through Allah’s grace, the invaluable role of the revered religious authority, and the efforts of dedicated political and social actors.

H.E. emphasized the need to continue working diligently to solidify stability and transform it into a lasting and sustainable reality. H.E. noted that upcoming challenges require even greater cooperation and solidarity from all to build a strong and stable Iraq.
