Sayyid Al-Hakeem Meets Youth Leaders in Ramadan Gathering: "Youth Determination Key to Achievement"

In a special Ramadan gathering, Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem, Head of the National State Powers Alliance, met with a group of youth leaders, engaging in discussions on various national and humanitarian issues while listening to their valuable insights. The meeting began with an exchange of congratulations on the arrival of the blessed month of Ramadan.

During His Eminence’s remarks, Sayyid Al-Hakeem emphasized that the path to achievement is always lined with challenges and obstacles, highlighting that distinguished individuals possess the strong will needed to overcome them. H.E. further noted that the philosophy of fasting teaches believers self-discipline and willpower, describing it as an invitation to Allah’s hospitality and a means of attaining piety.

Sayyid Al-Hakeem underscored that Al-Hikma National project has spanned over a century, dating back to the 1920 Revolution and beyond. H.E. affirmed that Al-Hikma National Movement has played a crucial role in offering solutions and bridging perspectives while adhering to a centrist and moderate approach that prioritizes the public interest, despite it being the more challenging path.

H.E. also stressed that Iraq’s diversity necessitates efforts to foster unity among its various components. Regarding national stability, H.E. asserted that political stability cannot be achieved without security stability, which in turn leads to economic stability, ultimately contributing to prosperity, public satisfaction, and state strength.

On the topic of youth empowerment, Sayyid Al-Hakeem highlighted the successful initiatives introduced by Al-Hikma National Movement, affirming that enabling young individuals across political and societal spheres represents a triumph for the movement’s vision.

Addressing the issue of drug abuse, H.E. called for distinguishing between users and traffickers, emphasizing the importance of differentiating between criminals and victims in this context.

Regarding global challenges, Sayyid Al-Hakeem urged the adoption of modern priorities, including digital technology and artificial intelligence, stressing the need to advance these fields within Iraq.

In conclusion, H.E. reiterated that Syria’s stability is essential for regional stability, calling for attention to the country’s diverse population and the promotion of justice and political participation. H.E. also emphasized the importance of investing in Iraq’s gas resources to achieve self-sufficiency, advocating for the adoption of modern technologies in this sector.
