Sayyid Al-Hakeem Congratulates Sabean Mandaean Community on Creation Day: A Call for Return and Contribution to Iraq's Reconstruction

As part of the Creation Day (Bronaya) celebrations, Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem, Head of the National State Powers Alliance, attended to extend his congratulations to our beloved fellow citizens of the Sabean Mandaean community, in the presence of the Head of the Community, Sheikh Star Jabar Al-Helo.

In his speech, Sayyid Al-Hakeem emphasized that the value of Iraq's communities is not measured by their numbers but by the quality of their contributions and the cultural enrichment they bring to Iraqi society. H.E. highlighted the significant importance of the Mandaean Sabeans in Iraq due to their intellectual, cultural, and historical legacy.

H.E. expressed his happiness with the presence of this honorable community in Iraq and noted that preserving their existence is of great importance. H.E. called for the return of Mandaean Sabeans who had previously left the country under difficult circumstances, urging them to be part of the reconstruction process and contribute to strengthening stability and development in Iraq.

H.E. pointed out that Iraq is currently experiencing unprecedented political, social, and security stability, and that it needs the participation of all its citizens in this crucial phase. H.E. emphasized that the Sabeans Mandaeans are key partners in the national achievements that have been made, urging them to continue contributing to these successes across various fields.

H.E. also spoke about the significant role the Mandaean Sabeans can play in representing Iraq in international relations, stating that they have the potential to be ambassadors of Iraq worldwide, leveraging their networks to build relationships and partnerships that enhance Iraq's standing in the region and the world.

In conclusion, H.E. Al-Hakeem renewed his congratulations to the Mandaean Sabean community on their special occasion, wishing them continued success, stability, and greater security and harmony for Iraq.
