Sayyid Al-Hakeem Discusses Political Developments, Upcoming Milestones with Baha’ Al-Araji, Mohammed Tawfiq Allawi

Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem, Head of the National State Powers Alliance, held separate meetings with Mr. Baha Al-Araji and Mr. Mohammed Tawfiq Allawi, during which they discussed the evolving political landscape in Iraq and the broader region, as well as the pressing challenges tied to the forthcoming national entitlements.

H.E. emphasized that the progress and achievements witnessed in Iraq are a direct result of the country’s current state of political, security, and social stability. H.E. stressed the importance of safeguarding this stability and building upon it to ensure its long-term sustainability.

H.E. also noted that the region is undergoing a difficult transitional phase due to the accumulation of crises and challenges over recent years. However, H.E. expressed optimism that ongoing dialogue between the Islamic Republic of Iran and the United States could lead to constructive outcomes that would enhance security and stability across the region.
