Sayyid Al-Hakeem Receives Turkish Ambassador, Stresses Regional Stability, to Support Iran

Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem, Head of the National State Powers' Alliance, received this evening the Ambassador of the Republic of Turkey to Iraq, H.E. Anıl Bora İnan. The meeting discussed the latest regional developments, particularly the israeli attacks on the Islamic Republic of Iran. During the discussion, Sayyid Al-Hakeem emphasized the urgent need to halt these aggressions, which pose a clear threat to the stability of the region and the safety of its people. H.E. stressed the importance of preserving regional peace and protecting the interests of Islamic nations through dialogue and the voice of reason.

H.E. called for a unified Islamic stance in the face of ongoing regional challenges, noting that the Islamic Republic of Iran has been subjected to an unprovoked assault despite its genuine engagement in negotiations, high level of flexibility, and its constructive proposals. H.E. warned against the growing trend of resorting to force as a substitute for diplomacy.

H.E. reaffirmed full support for the Islamic Republic of Iran during this critical period—politically, diplomatically, and through the media. At the same time, H.E. underscored the need to safeguard the achievements made within Iraq, which have laid the groundwork for the current state of political, security, and social stability.
