Sayyid Al-Hakeem Discusses Political Developments with Al-Saedi, Stresses Southern Provinces Support, Services Five Pillars Advancement

During a meeting with Professor Jawad Raheem Al-Saedi, Head of the Jihad and Construction Movement, His Eminence Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem, Head of the National State Powers' Alliance, recalled the long record of jihadist sacrifices in confronting dictatorship, offering prayers of mercy for the martyrs of that era.

The discussion covered political developments, the electoral landscape, and future challenges. H.E. emphasized the importance of safeguarding achievements, particularly the current stability, and working to sustain it. H.E. stressed that elections must be held in a transparent environment, with competition focused on programs and serving the public.

H.E. also underscored the need to support the southern provinces, especially the most impoverished ones, reaffirming the "five pillars of services" – water, electricity, healthcare, education, and infrastructure.
