Sayyid Al-Hakeem, Iranian Ambassador Discuss Strengthening Bilateral Relations, Emphasize Elections as Key to Sustainable Stability

Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem, Head of of the National State Powers' Alliance, received on Sunday, October 5, 2025, H.E. Mohammad Kazem Al-Sadegh, Ambassador of the Islamic Republic of Iran to Baghdad. The meeting discussed ways to strengthen bilateral relations between Iraq and Iran in a manner that serves the interests of both nations and peoples, and further deepens their Islamic, cultural, economic, and political ties.

His Eminence highlighted the nature of Iraq's current political obligations, describing the upcoming elections as a decisive turning point that will determine the country's transition from fragile stability to lasting stability. H.E. reiterated the importance of seizing available opportunities and avoiding their loss, emphasizing that the current phase marks a critical juncture in Iraq's modern history.

H.E. also addressed the situation in the region, affirming that its stability is essential for global peace and security, calling for dialogue as the means to resolve outstanding issues, and underscoring the importance of supporting the Palestinian people, aiding displaced families, and rebuilding devastated cities.
