Sayyid Al-Hakeem: Kirkuk Capable of Creating Coexistence Story Extending to All Iraq

From Kirkuk of diversity, His Eminence Sayyid Al-Hakeem, Head of the National State Powers' Alliance, met with a gathering of members of the Kakai Barzanji tribe, in the presence of the tribe's head, Sheikh Ibrahim Agha, explaining the importance of affiliation with Imam Ali (PBUH) and adherence to his approach, which links people to one another through religion and humanity, making a person connected with everyone, and which is a humanistic approach and a theory of social relations.

H.E. explained that the aim of this visit is to communicate with the governorates, especially after the end of the mission of the International Coalition to Combat Terrorism, calling for internal dialogue and proving Iraq's ability to solve its problems within the Constitution, the law, and the established frameworks, explaining that dialogue unites the Iraqi nation and strengthens its partnership and consensus, and affirming Iraq's ability to overcome the economic challenges resulting from regional events.

H.E. urged the people of Kirkuk to hold fast to coexistence and societal stability, shoulder responsibility, and create a coexistence story for all of Iraq and its components, stressing combating terrorism, sectarianism, and internal conflicts, and preventing them from returning to Iraqi society.
