Sayyid Al-Hakeem Calls to Reward Turkmen Sacrifices, Strengthen Their Representation, National Role

In the Tis’een area of Kirkuk, at the guesthouse of Sheikh Abdul Mahdi Agha, His Eminence Sayyid Al-Hakeem, Head of the National State Powers’ Alliance, met with a gathering of Turkmen brothers, recalling the sacrifices of the Turkmen who follow Ahl Al-Bayt (PBUT) during the era of dictatorship and in confronting terrorism, and calling for rewarding them for their sacrifices, giving, and defense of Iraq.

H.E. recalled the historic relationship between the Turkmen and the family of Imam Al-Hakeem (may Allah sanctify his soul), describing the Turkmen as an important pillar in Iraq and Kirkuk, regarding the end of the International Coalition’s mission in Iraq as a message of Iraq’s recovery, calling for constant vigilance and caution, sustainable planning, and continuous oversight, stressing sending messages of reassurance among Iraqis and their openness to one another, commending the cohesion of the people of Kirkuk and their consolidation of the foundation of coexistence, for Kirkuk is a miniature Iraq, and expressing optimism about Iraq’s future despite setbacks and hardships, for Iraq is on an upward trajectory.

H.E. affirmed that the Iraqi security agencies have become the most capable of combating terrorism and possess an important experience that is a source of pride to the world, calling on the Turkmen to hold fast to their identity and nationality, explaining that they are Iraq’s bridge to the peoples of the region and the world, and renewing the call to support the segments of employees, farmers, and contractors, in order to provide job opportunities, services, and food security, reclaim land, and sustain the momentum of production.
