Sayyid Al-Hakeem: Moderation, Centrism Solution to Iraq’s Crises, Facing Its Challenges

His Eminence Sayyid Al-Hakeem, Head of the National State Powers’ Alliance and Head of Al-Hikma National Movement, received at his office in Baghdad a group of female organizational leaders in Thi Qar Governorate, congratulating the people of Thi Qar on their belonging to Thi Qar, the land of civilization, and their belonging to the Messenger of Allah (PBUH) and Ahl Al-Bayt (PBUT), and their defense of the faith.

H.E. called for drawing lessons from the birth anniversary of Lady Zaynab (PBUH) and the martyrdom anniversary of Lady Fatima Al-Zahra (PBUH), pointing to their role in defending Islam, and affirming that reform projects are exposed to trials and challenges and carry hardships, and stressing exerting effort to achieve results.

H.E. called for taking pride in belonging to the Al-Hikma project, the project of the martyred leaders, explaining that the approach of moderation and centrism is the solution to the country’s crises, and expressing happiness at the political forces’ adoption of this approach, after Al-Hikma National Movement used to be blamed, smeared, and accused of treason because of it.

H.E. also called for getting to know the project of Al-Hikma National Movement and introducing it, as well as knowing the political stance, stressing the need to rely on Allah and exert effort and diligence, and pointing out that people are either loving, neutral, confused by matters, or obstinate and malicious, calling for diversifying the discourse according to each of these categories, while showing the movement identity and taking pride in it.
